VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR STUDY:

UNDERSTANDING ACADEMIC READINESS AND BEHAVIOUR IN PRESCHOOL CHILDREN THROUGH BRAIN IMAGING

IMPACT: To better understand environmental, biological, and psychosocial factors that may play a role in development of attention problems

A compensation will be provided

INCLUSION CRITERIA

a- mother who experienced symptoms of depression (e.g. low mood, sleep challenges) during pregnancy

b- 4-6 years old child

c- child showing attention/ behaviour problems

PROCEDURE

- Find out if you're eligible by scanning QR code and answering questions online about your own mental health and child's behaviour (5-10 minutes)

Study Participation:

- Your child will complete some table top tasks related to reading and self-regulation (2 hours)
- We will take pictures of your child's brain using an MRI (30 min)
- MRI and assessments will take place at Douglas Research Center (6875 Bd LaSalle, Verdun,)

PI affiliation: McGill University
Email: caarlab@mcgill.ca for more information

Centre intégré universitaire de santé et de services sociaux de l'Ouest-de-l'Île-de-Montréal
Québec

McGill | Department of Educational and Counselling Psychology | Département de psychopédagogie et de psychologie du counseling